Jane Fortune Lecture

Please join us as we welcome back author Jane Fortune. Jane will be sharing her documentary on the 1966 Flood in Florence which damaged countless works of art. She will share the story of how the government of Florence called for donations of artwork from around the world to fulfill a dream of creating a modern day Uffizi that would reclaim the city's place at the forefront of the world's art scene and how the world answered this request.

May 10th 11:30am – 12:30pm

Cancer Support Services: 8550 Naab Rd. Suite 201

Gallery Opening

The Eco Art show, Learning, Growing, Thriving, was created by the cancer patients who participate in outpatient Art Therapy. It uses natural elements and transforms them into beautiful pieces of artwork!

May 10th 12:30pm – 3:30pm

Cancer Support Services: 8550 Naab Rd. Suite 201

Outdoor Yoga

Whether you are coming from or to work, take some time to honor the sacred mind-body connection. For some, this may be a chance to center after/before a long shift, for others a chance to let off some steam, or a way to tune to your body and give it what it needs. Weather permitting, this will take place outdoors; BYOM (bring your own mat).

May 24th 5:00pm – 6:00pm

Seton Cove Serenity Garden: 2025 Dugan Dr.

Rain site-Cancer Support Services: 8550 Naab Rd. Suite 201

Mosaic Tiling

Come to add one tile on your way to a meeting or stay for a while and get to know you fellow associates as you piece together our newest edition to the St. Vincent mosaic collection.
